

SHORES OF LAKE SUPERIOR WITH WRECKAGE OF STORM FROM THE LAST THREE DAYS

Nearly a Hundred Persons Believed to have been Drowned—Loss to Shipping will Run up into the Millions of Dollars—Bodies of the Dead are Being Washed Ashore at Various Points.

The shores of Lake Superior, Lake Huron, and Lake Erie are strewn with the wreckage of a three-days' gale and snow storm, which cost the lives of nearly a hundred persons, turned bottom up in mid-lake a three hundred foot vessel with its crew; wrecked or grounded numerous craft, and caused a property loss as yet unestimated, but which will run into millions. The details of the storm which literally swept Lake Superior to the eastern shore of Lake Erie became known Tuesday, when survivors began arriving in various ports with tales of the hardships and heroic rescues seldom equaled on the lakes.

On the land the storm hit hardest at Cleveland, Ohio, where 21 inches of snow fell, five persons were killed, and ten others lost, and where $2,000,000 damage was caused to property, chiefly telephone and power companies, the heaviest that city ever experienced in two days. The death toll, with many towns unreported, is thus told:

Twenty-five persons, perhaps forty, men probably drowned in overturning of a freight boat floating in Lake Huron.

Five bodies washed ashore at St. Joseph's, on the Canadian side of Lake Huron (four had belts marked Westford, and one wore a belt marked London). Three bodies washed ashore on the west shore of Lake Huron.

Two bodies washed ashore opposite the position of overturned boat.

Six members of a light ship drowned in Lake Erie near Buffalo, N.Y.

Seven mariners are believed to have perished Sunday in the hurricane which swept Saginaw Bay.

The rescue from the wreck of a three-day storm, which blew away the forward part of the ship, was made by the crew of the steamer L. C. Watson, navigated by a small, inexperienced crew, and the aid of a launch, held by a sailor, in this way he guided himself and crew to a reef, where the crew on landing, among them, sold and hunger until their rescue today.

The crew of the "Mascot" ship, when they struck the rocks in the hurricane, were forced to go ashore.

Liberal Victory in England Gives Govt. Renewed Vigor

Canadian Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Fresh spirit has been put into the Liberal party by the return of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, who had been in retirement since his election to the House of Commons in 1905.

The excitement in the division is unexampled, and the party which exceeds that of 1911 by 267 votes, constitutes a record. The Irish vote was large, and it is said to have been the largest since 1906.

A Lullaby and heading the election has been urged throughout the campaign by the Liberal and Unionist candidates to concentrate their efforts on the election of 1914.

Mr. Bannerman's return has been hailed as a great victory for the Liberal party, and it is expected that the government will be renewed.

FIRST SYNOD OF EDMONTON OPENS TODAY

Many Delegates Arrived Last Night And More Are Expected Today

New Bishop's Election Will No. Likely Take Place Until January

Beginning at eight o'clock this morning with a celebration of Holy Communion in All Saints' church, the gathering, which will go down into the pages of history as a red-letter one in the annals of the Anglican communion in Northern Alberta, has been eagerly anticipated by local churchmen, and there will be very few vacant seats when the delegates take their places. A number of the delegates arrived last night, and a further contingent will arrive this morning. The synod there will be between sixty and seventy, and is expected to last two days, and in attendance.

Outstanding Figure. The most outstanding figure of the synod will be Bishop Pugh, of Calgary, who has for many years been a faithful minister in the province in the interests of the church. At an early time this morning he will give his pastoral address, in which he will outline the steps that have already been taken in connection with the formation of the diocese, and the work that the synod is expected to accomplish.

Bishop's Election Later. Bishop Pugh, who is staying with Frank H. Holman, 2212 Peace avenue, told the Bulletin last night that the present session was purely for organizational purposes. The synod had no business to do, no matter how important or anything of that kind, and they were meeting for the purpose of settling these things.

Refuse Is Expected. Pugh, Nov. 11.—It is reported here that James Larkin, head of the "Irish workers' union," who was released from prison by order of the British government, is expected to arrive in connection with the strike here.

TO ASSIST CASES OF DESERVING CHARITY

committees helped or dealt with will be asked for and recorded on cards properly indexed.

When two or more agencies are found handling the same case they will be put in touch with each other so that they may get together and decide how best to deal with that case, in order to best serve the individual or family and protect the interests of the agencies concerned. The committee will encourage "case conferences" between the workers in regard to their cases, for only in this way can proper plans be laid for the helping of people to independence. The committee will ask for meetings of the heads of the different agencies in order to bring about a better understanding of the whole problem of relief.

On the question of the endorsement of any relief agency the matters to be considered will be:

- 1.—Are proper records kept of receipts and disbursements of money and goods?
- 2.—Are records kept of individual and families assisted?
- 3.—Are the cases carefully investigated before help is given?
- 4.—Does the agency show an equality as to whether other agencies are carrying on their work?
- 5.—Does the agency show a willingness to co-operate with others in the carrying on of their work?
- 6.—Does the agency show a willingness to co-operate with others in the carrying on of their work?
- 7.—Does the agency show a willingness to co-operate with others in the carrying on of their work?

Why Petition Was Secured.

It was on the strength of this, says Mr. Clark, that Mr. McNamara's friends set out to secure the numerous signatures of the citizens of the city. It was last week the letter demanding that the freighter be allowed to pass was delivered. The freight meeting was adjourned, and the petition was presented to the mayor and council.

One Mark Wright, a professional party worker, reported that Mr. McNamara told him that he would vote for Mayor Shier if he were not a candidate to oppose him.

It was the day after Mr. Clark's petition was presented to the mayor and council, that Mr. McNamara announced his candidacy in spite of his positive assurance that he would not run.

Then came a storm of the secret meeting on Sunday afternoon, when four representatives of each of the candidates met to decide which one should lay his hands on the freighter.

How Vote Stood.

Here, says Mr. Clark, the first vote was four in favor of Mr. Shier, then Mr. Baker, of the Mayor's staff, came in with a vote of five. Mr. Clark, asked what Mr. Clark's staff had done, Mr. Clark said that he had voted for Mr. Shier, and that he had also voted for Mr. McNamara, leading Mr. Baker to change his vote and to elect Mr. McNamara as the candidate.

Mr. McNamara's Statement.

This statement of Mr. Clark's staff, says Mr. Clark, is referring to what he described as the "four votes" of the city which were given to Mr. Shier under other circumstances he indicated that he had not voted for Mr. Shier, but for Mr. McNamara.

THE MODERN CARPET OF BAGDAD

THERE are few people who do not know the story of the wonderful carpet on which the owner had but to sit, wish to be at some place and, lo! immediately he found himself there.

Some agents of this nature would be appreciated by many a manufacturer in jumping the demand for his product into a thousand places, a thousand miles away from his factory. Apparently to such a man there is no means of "getting there" and placing his name and his goods right into that territory, except by slow, laborious bit-by-bit acquaintance—month-to-month testimonials.

But he has overlooked the modern Carpet of Bagdad.

It is Newspaper Advertising.

Fanciful you say?

Did you ever hear of Edward's Soup? Well, the genial old cook who forms the trade mark just jumped right from Ireland to a thousand places in Canada in a week—from the Carpet of Newspaper Advertising.

Ever hear of Tullon's Oats? The "brown Scat" who rands for this product stepped over night, as it were, from a small town in Ontario to practically every town and village in Canada.

Wrigley's Gum—Sunshine Furnaces—Comfort Soap—all have taken advantage of this Modern Carpet of Bagdad—Newspaper Advertising.

TO THE MANUFACTURERS OF CANADA:

If you have a name and a product that you wish placed in demand throughout Canada, take advantage at once of the modern carpet of Bagdad—Newspaper Advertising.

"Black Hundred" May Take Advantage Of Jury's Verdict In The Ritual Murder Case

While Jury Deliberate Memorial Service Held for Murdered Boy
Within Sione's Throw of Court—Students Incite Mobs by Saying Jews Purchased Verdict—No Disorders So Far

Kiev, Russia, Nov. 10.—"Bellie is not guilty, but the murder was committed in the Sione's works." This was the verdict returned shortly after six o'clock tonight by the jury in the celebrated ritual murder case, after two hours deliberation.

When Bellie was taken out of the prisoner's room of the court for the last time and brought along the jury corridor, it was seen that the guard had been increased to five soldiers. Two officers entered the dock with him. Bellie was outwardly calm. The court room was crowded, but deep silence followed the entry of the president and other judges. The jury then filed in and the foreman advanced a few paces in the box and read the verdict.

Accused Sobs.
Bellie was standing with his hands on the dock rails. He seemed to be in a state of coma but was striving to collect his wits and comprehend what was being said. When he read the meaning of the verdict he fell back into his seat, sobbing convulsively. He coughed, approached the dock and shook hands with his warden.

The strictest precautions had been taken to prevent unauthorized persons from gaining access to the court. The police were in armed force both within and outside the building.

Service for Victim.
While the jury was deliberating, a memorial service for the murdered boy, Yushinsky, was being held in St. Joseph's Cathedral, within a few minutes' throw of the court. The cathedral was thronged with a great crowd and the bishop delivered an oration in which he dwelt on the awful crime. He said that the authorities had made a most minute investigation and he urged the people to conform to the court's decision, whatever it might be.

Half afternoon the streets of Kiev were crowded and after the verdict was pronounced the police dispersed numerous gatherings all over the city.

Unsettled Feeling.
An uneasy feeling prevails for it is not known what capital the "Black Hundred" will make out of the jury's finding that the murder was committed in the Sione's works. They expected, however, there have been no disorders.

Anti-semitic agitators, many of whom are students, are openly inciting mobs by affirming that the Jews had purchased the verdict. The governor of Kiev, however, called a meeting of representatives of the Jews and promised everything would be done to prevent outbreaks. He expected the Jews on their part, to eschew any demonstrations.

Little More Evidence.
The president of the court in his summary up, observed a tone of moderation but said all the evidence committed to the crime having been given in the vicinity of the Sione's works, and not Vera Tcheberak's house. He directed all the testimony pointing to the Tcheberak woman and her husband and remarked how few were the witnesses who had given direct evidence against Bellie. The jury must consider, he said, whether the possibility of such ritual

MEXICAN SPEECH BY ASQUITH MET APPROVAL OF ALL

Times Says Words Effectively Dispose of Stories of Strained Relationship

U. S. POLICY IDEALISTIC BUT PEOPLE IN EARNEST

England Has No Direct Concern and Won't Cavi at Steps by Wilson

London, Nov. 11.—Premier Asquith's references to Mexico at the Guild Hall give intense satisfaction to the London morning newspapers. The Times, in an editorial, says:

"They will be read through the Empire with heartfelt satisfaction, and we are confident that this satisfaction will not be less deep or general across the Atlantic. The premier's words effectively dispose of the stories of strained relations between the two countries, stories which were never even published."

The Times then proceeds to comment upon a long statement appearing in its columns "from a quarter entirely qualified," and adds: "To interpret the American standpoint, and particularly to explain President Wilson's motives."

This statement says: "The United States is under no illusion as to the position of affairs in Mexico, where the President still hopes to avoid, but he desires to vindicate the principle of representative and constitutional government. The policy of recognizing as president any successful adventurer is regarded as a mistaken policy, which only places a premium on revolutionary outbreaks, which are likely to cease when it becomes known that the United States will not tolerate any such system in Central or South America."

"Though this policy may be deemed idealistic and impractical in Europe, the people of the United States are earnestly agreed upon it, and if force is inevitable to secure its approval, force will be employed, after which Mexico will be left to govern itself in accordance with constitutional precepts."

Commenting editorially on the statement, the Times says: "The matter is no direct concern of Great Britain and there will be no desire here to cavi at any steps President Wilson and his government may think necessary to secure good government in Mexico."

ATHABASCA RIVER AGAIN CLEAR OF ICE

Mild Weather Causes Disappearance of Slush Ice—Roads to Landing Good

Bulletin Special

Athabasca, Alta., Nov. 10.—Owing to the mild weather of the past few days the river is running clear of ice. Although the ferry was hoisted some days ago for the winter, gasoline boats carry passengers back and forth from the north side.

Although the C. N. R. have improved their train service between here and Edmonton, several parties motored in the past week. The road being in excellent condition at the season of the year, the trip by motor from Edmonton is a pleasure.

The superintendent of the Demonstration Farm, Mr. J. McNeill, returned from Edmonton on Thursday and has paid the wages due the men for the recent improvements done on the farm.

The supper and social given by the ladies of the Roman Catholic church on Wednesday evening last at Reitz's Hall was a splendid success. Over four hundred sat down to supper, and a great many remained for the program, and took part in the social side of the evening.

A meeting of the Carling Club was held on Friday evening, when ships were elected and risks chosen for the winter. Cold weather, to make ice, is all that is now required to satisfy the most ardent skier.

Mrs. J. D. Tait, of Vancouver, is spending a few days with Mrs. Barber.

Dr. Weldon of Michel, B.C., is spending a couple of weeks with his brother, J. R. Weldon, on the north side. He came for a mouse hunt.

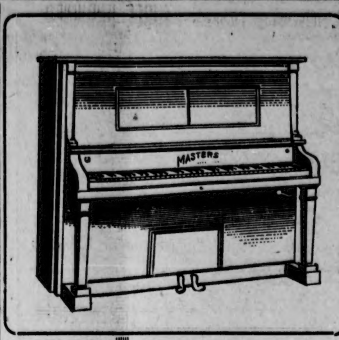

Men to Scout Expedition Survivors.

London, Nov. 11.—At a meeting of the Royal Geographical Society last night, Lord Curzon presented the medals to the surviving members of the Scott expedition. The Italian commander, Dr. Umberto, of the Royal Italian Geographical Society, presented medals to Lady Scott, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Gates and Mrs. Browne. The widow of Petty Officer Evans was not present. The medals will be forwarded to her.

Murder had been proved, and it proved Bellie must be condemned. Two questions were put to the jury, the first of which made no mention of Bellie, but simply inquired whether the crime as described was committed on the brick works premises. This was answered in the affirmative. The second question asking whether Bellie was guilty, was answered in the negative. Counsel for the defence protested against the mention of the Sione's works as the scene of the crime.

Bellie remained in prison tonight.
